

the Revolt electronic press kit 2025

biography

Hailing from the island of Aruba in the Caribbean, The Revoir brings out alternative rock in a form that's shaped by their most prized influences--incorporating elements of power pop, noise rock and shoegaze.

While technically formed in 2018, the band struggled to find its footing due to several lineup changes and scrapped projects. Lead singer Yurick Neuman and former drummer Eddy Rutten managed to secure a stable lineup, including bassist Shae Brokke, leading to the release of their debut single "Jorie" (2022).

In the summer of 2022, the band experienced viral success on the social media platform TikTok, garnering 5 million likes and several millions of views across all of their videos. After releasing the single "Mavis" (2022), the band sought to produce a full length debut album, hoping to complete it before Yurick and Eddy would move to the Netherlands to study.

Following addition of lead guitarist Stephan Flores, alongside the release of promotional singles "Weirdhead" (2023) and "What Happens" (2023), the band finally released their debut album "Stomp" (2023) to warm reception from fans.

Yurick and Eddy's inevitable move to the Netherlands left the band in a fragmented state, which alongside Eddy's departure as drummer, left them unable to maintain their social media presence and continue promoting "Stomp".

However, after a successful 2024 reunion show in Aruba with guest drummer Dane Kock, the band have fully moved operations to the Netherlands, recruiting new drummer Madee Compagne and gearing up for new shows and the release of a second album.
